

Pupil Premium Report September 2015

The government believes that the Pupil Premium, which is additional to main school funding, is the best way to address the underlying inequalities between children eligible for free school meals, looked after children, forces children and other children. It is for schools to decide how the Pupil Premium allocated to schools is spent, since they are best placed to assess what additional provision should be made within the school for these pupils.

Pupil Premium 2013-14 Outcomes

Attendance at breakfast club for 2 pupil premium pupils meant they have not been late for school since they began attending the club; this meant they were 'ready to learn' at the start of the school day and have missed no lesson time.

The pupil premium child at risk of exclusion is still attending school, there have been some fixed term exclusions these were notably absent when he was attending counselling sessions.

At the end of key stage 1 pupil premium children made better than expected progress in reading and mathematics. Progress in writing is slightly lower than expected.

At the end of Key stage 2 pupil premium pupils make outstanding progress in reading and writing and good progress in mathematics.

In other year groups a significant number of the pupils in receipt of pupil premium are identified as SEN pupils, however they have still made good progress in reading and expected progress in writing. Year 1 and 2 children have made good progress in maths, although Year 3 and 4 children have made slightly below expected progress.
